SHANGHAI, China. (June 8, 2017) — Jamo®, a high-tech audio collaborative founded on Danish design principles and a Klipsch Group, Inc. brand, announces today an exceptional line-up of new and existing products on display at CES® Asia in Shanghai. Jamo, architects of sound design for modern living, will feature design inspired, high performance products that seamlessly integrate into living spaces.

“We are committed to making 2017 the year of Jamo and have allocated research and development funds to bring beautifully designed, high performance products to the market,” said Paul Jacobs, president and CEO of Klipsch Group. “Jamo provides modern style and great sound to any home; well-crafted product designed for people’s lives and living spaces.”

Jamo Studio 8 includes seamless Dolby Atmos® integration for incredibly realistic, three-dimensional sound without sacrificing aesthetics.

Jamo will showcase its first-ever sound bar collection that combine European design and immersive acoustic experiences. The Jamo Studio SB 36 All-In-One sound bar with a built-in subwoofer is 36” long and features Bluetooth® wireless technology, as well as optical and analog inputs. It is available in black or grey and comes wrapped in soft textured grille cloth. The Studio SB 40 is a 40” sound bar and wireless subwoofer. It includes HDMI, Bluetooth® wireless technology, optical and analog inputs. The slim design is ideal for use with limited space.

The new Jamo Landscape speakers provide dynamic audio performances while integrating seamlessly into any residential or commercial outdoor environment. The JL-4 full-range landscape satellites offer an ultra-compact design and all-weather construction for maximum durability and impact resistance. The accompanying JL-10SW half-burial subwoofer installs easily for low frequency extension and output.

Adding to the brand's outdoor offerings, Jamo Rock speakers and Indoor/Outdoor (i/O) speakers are voiced to match their box and architectural counterparts, and offer alternative aesthetic form factors for outdoor listening experiences.

The JDA-500 Jamo Amplifier is designed with the Jamo landscape system in mind to optimize performance, as well as providing DSP presets for the entire Jamo speaker family. The Jamo Amplifier allows for maximum install flexibility and offers 70V/100V low impedance capability. The powerful DSP suite provides full customization of I/O routing, EQ, limiting and system tuning.

The Jamo Digital series Bluetooth® wireless technology speakers feature seven unique portable and tabletop solutions that are practical, durable, and easy-to-use. The newest model is the DS7 powered stereo speakers and subwoofer, whose design is based on the award-winning, iconic Jamo R909 loudspeaker.
